

TRANSLATING BUDDHIST TEXTS: The Making of An English Buddhist Canon

Bukkyō Dendō Kyōkai (BDK) continues its long-term project of translating Chinese Buddhist texts from the Taishō canon into English. Join us for a day of discussions about the intricacies of translating Buddhist texts, and about the editorial process of turning manuscripts into finished books.

Presenters:

Jan Nattier, Professor of Buddhist Studies (ret.) Indiana University

Paul Harrison, Professor of Religious Studies, Stanford University

Stefano Zacchetti, Numata Professor of Buddhist Studies, Oxford University

Kenneth Tanaka, Professor of Buddhist Studies (ret.), Musashino University and BDK Tokyo Editorial Committee

Charles Muller, Professor, Center for Evolving Humanities, Tokyo University and BDK America Publication Committee

May 3, 2018

10:00 am to 4:30 pm

Jodo Shinshu Center

2140 Durant Avenue

Berkeley, CA 94704

Sponsored by BDK America

1675 School Street, Moraga, CA 94556

Ph. (925) 388-0067 www.bdkamerica.org

Celebrating its 40th Anniversary